

OMAN INVESTMENT BANK LAUNCHES GCC WEEKLY MONITOR RESOURCE FOR INVESTORS AND CORPORATE CLIENTS ON ITS OFFICIAL WEBSITE

10th September 2024: Muscat, Oman – Following its establishment in Q1 2024 as the Sultanate of Oman’s first dedicated corporate investment bank, Oman Investment Bank is marking another milestone with the launch of its GCC Weekly Monitor. This new resource is accessible through www.oib.om.

The website will serve as a key information platform for clients, reflecting OIB’s continued development into a full-service investment bank and its role as an internationally aligned partner in Oman’s dynamic and competitive economy.

This comprehensive resource offers professional investors and corporate clients a detailed snapshot of market movements, valuation data, and news across Oman, the GCC, and key emerging markets, covering equities, fixed income, and commodities.

Commenting on the launch, Akin Tuzun, Head of Research at OIB, noted: “This, our first product, reflects our commitment to providing high-quality, independent research and analysis tools. We hope it will positively contribute to our clients’ investment processes and investment outcomes. We look forward to introducing our company research, macroeconomic analysis, and strategic insights over time.”

A synopsis of the GCC Weekly Monitor is available at <https://oib.om/research-insights/>, providing approximately 20% of the full content. For complete access, professional investors and corporate clients are encouraged to subscribe to Oman Investment Bank’s research distribution list by completing and submitting the 'Research and Insight' form available on the website.
